

Dear Bride and Groom,

Planning your wedding is very important and I want to make sure you know the lighting conditions you'll be able to take advantage of for your wedding. I have listed below both the time the sunsets and also the last moment we can possibly take any images outside.

If you have an evening wedding and you plan on seeing each other, the hour before sunset is known as "Golden Hour" and is the best time to make images for your wedding. If you plan on not seeing each other before your wedding and you'd like to have portraits made outside, you'll need to plan so your wedding ends with enough time for outside photography before sunset. That's at least 20 minutes before sunset. Twilight is when all daylight is gone, so the closer you get to twilight, the less likely you are to get great images.
